Most kids may be back in school, but we are still feeding everyone free meals Breakfast and Lunch

Meals are still free in school and out. We are also still offering free meals for all children 1-18 years old through our distance learning distribution days. We are however, required to change how many days we can hand out the meals now that kids are back in school. The legal requirements are that we can offer 7 days of meals to any single child per week. That means that we can only offer 3 days worth of meals for all the kids that are now attending in person classes 4 days a week. For all other children we are still offering 5 days worth of meals. We hope that we can still provide meals to all families that can use the meals, but each family will need to tell us if any of their students are attending in person classes now, when you pick up meals.

Spring Break Meals

We are going to hand out the distance learning meals for spring break on the 24th. We have had great success of doubling up meals the week prior to an unusual week. This means we are going to give families 2 weeks worth of meals on March 24th. We will not hand out meals on the 31st during spring break. With the change in the number of meals per child and the fact kids are not in school during break, we will actually be handing out 8 meals for those kids in classes and 10 meals for all other children 1-18 years of age.

NEW Pre-Order meal links for the next 4 weeks.
